

Dear Families,

You may want to know about this fun and healthy 'game' our classroom will be 'playing' this year.

PAX Good Behavior Game gives teachers the tools to have more teaching time and students the skills to engage in more learning. PAX teaches peace in our classroom, our school and our community.

The PAX Game and the 'kernels' (concepts) are well researched and effective practices that help students improve and increase attention, retention and self-control skills all while developing self-awareness, empathy and resilience. Teachers will be introducing one new kernel a week, which will prepare them to play the PAX Good Behavior Game later in the year.

We will send home information about the strategies as they are introduced in the classroom and give you ways to reinforce them at home.

We believe your children will love the simple and powerful positive learning that happens with the PAX Good Behavior Game!

We look forward to this fun addition to our classroom as we get to know your children this year!
